swer his question. Ingram then returned to his seat.

Britt told the Senate he had been in sympathy with the firemen's bill, but he had feared the cities could not afford to hire additional personnel.

He said, however, that representatives of the Arkansas Municipal League were negotiating with Rockefeller for more state turnback funds during the 1967-69 biennium.

"So I told the firemen that if their bill failed, I would certainly give them a chance for reconsideration," Britt said. "If you men by 'deal' that I took any money, or took a promise, or took anything in return, I say that you are incorrect. My integrity has never been questioned before, and I resent it deeply."

"I didn't mean that you took any money," Ingram said, coming forward again. "I'm not questioning your honesty."

There was a tense, finger-jabbing confrontation then as the two argued noisily.

Hurst expressed concern and suggested that the Senate get back to its business. Sen. Robert Harvey of Swiftson rose, however, and said Britt's remarks had worried him.

"I think you've been as fair as you can be," Harvey said. "I've never seen anyone more fair, but you shouldn't let your personal feelings enter into your decisions. You're supposed to be impartial."

Harvey said what bothered him was Britt's statement about telling the firemen that he would give them a chance for reconsideration. Sen. Clarence Bell of Parkin also questioned Britt on that point.

"I didn't say that, Britt said.

Told that he had, he said he hadn't intended to. He explained later to newsmen that he had been referring to two senators who favored the bill, both of whom sat silent during the incident.

Britt said Gathright knew absolutely nothing about the agreement with the other two senators. Gathright said the same thing in a speech of his Arkansas Razorbacks (Frank Broyles) were to leave tomorrow, wouldn't we offer him more money to stay?" asked Rep. Herb Rule of Little Rock.

The proposed executive director would head a program coordinating the state's activities with federal development programs.

Rep. Ray S. Smith Jr. of Hot Springs said the position was "one of the most important if not the most important job in Arkansas." He said it required a "highly qualified" person of Peterson's caliber.

The House heard explanations of two school aid distribution bills and acted on several other appropriations measures.

It also approved resolutions urging Congress to restore federal highway funds frozen by President Johnson and to take action assuring that desegregation guidelines conform with U.S. Supreme Court decisions. The representatives also passed a bill making electric co-operatives subject to the general jurisdiction of the Public Service Commission.

the Senate.

They shook hands, smiling, and Ingram said: "If I said anything disrespectful, or anything that would lead you to believe our governor here would accept any money, or do anything dishonest, I didn't intend to. I want to apologize."

"I apologize to you and this body for the remarks I made," Britt replied. "I can only say it was done in the heat of anger."

The Senate gave both men a standing ovation.

Ingram made no apologies to Harkey, who was conducting a hearing on applications for increases in automobile insurance rates in the governor's reception room one floor below, or to Bernard, who flew in from West Memphis to answer Ingram's charges and make a few of his own.

The senator said the accusation that he assaulted Bernard was "a flat lie."

He said Bernard and Harkey, who he said was assigned to Crittenden County as a "hatchet man" went through every box in Crittenden County and even tore up some of the ballots with Mr. Harkey along.

"They went into the boxes at Earle, Arkansas, and ripped up some of the ballots and then stood outside and crowded about it," Ingram said.

mission to reduce the recommended salary of Dr. Wayne Babbitt from $17,500 to $15,000.

He also amended a bill to reduce to $18,000 the recommended $26,000 salary of the executive director of an economic development program that is planned for the governor's office.

The amendment touched off objections by some representatives that Rockefeller wouldn't be able to hire the man whom he wants for the job, Dr. John Peterson, chairman of the economics department of the University of Arkansas. Peterson's supporters say he is considering a high-paying job in Georgia.

"If the man who leads the Arkansas Razorbacks (Frank Broyles) were to leave tomorrow, wouldn't we offer him more money to stay?" asked Rep. Herb Rule of Little Rock.

Letters to the Editor

Editor-The Star: I would like to express my personal thanks, as well as those of the Student Council, to you and your entire staff for the wonderful publicity you gave us during Safety Week. This year's Safety Week was probably the best we have ever had, and your help had a great deal to do with our success.

Of course, you have always helped the Student Council in every way possible, and your fine coverage of Safety Week was just a continuation of the cooperation you have always given us. Perhaps we don't always show our appreciation for the help you and your staff give us, but we do thank you now, and I thank you again personally for all the publicity you gave Safety Week. Sincerely,

Charley Co. in Initial Assault

WAR ZONE C, South Vietnam (AP) — They were in Charlie Company, ready to assault a landing zone 300 yards from Cambodia — their small part in Junction City, the largest operation of the war.

Everyone in the battalion, 1st of the 2nd Infantry, a 1st Division outfit, said Charlie was a good company. That's why it was to be first in the landing zone.

On the strip at Minh Thanh, 55 helicopters were ready to lift the battalion, called the "Ramrodders," because one of its sergeants supposedly held off a platoon with a cannon ramrod at Vera Cruz.

The company commander, Capt. Gilbert H. Wichert, Bellevue, Neb., was quiet. His men said he was okay. Wichert, 34, worked his way from private to master sergeant in nine months with a rifle platoon in Korea.

The helicopter blades began to turn.

"I hope this is as easy as the iron triangle," said one of the seven in the helicopter.

"I just hope the Viet Cong knows I'm married. And I love my wife," said another. The landing zone was the trickiest of the six 1st Division controlled assaults of the day: small clearing, trees up close, nice machine-gun positions for the enemy. Everyone knew this.

"My mom used to spank me for crossing the street," one infantryman recalled as the chopper moved forward, scraping its skids a few seconds before soaring upward.

"I've been on five of these assaults and this is my last. In two months I'm going back to the artillery. I'm going to take my pride and hide," he said.

A couple of sniper rounds bounced off the helicopter without result. "Did you hear that? They're shooting at us," the medic said.

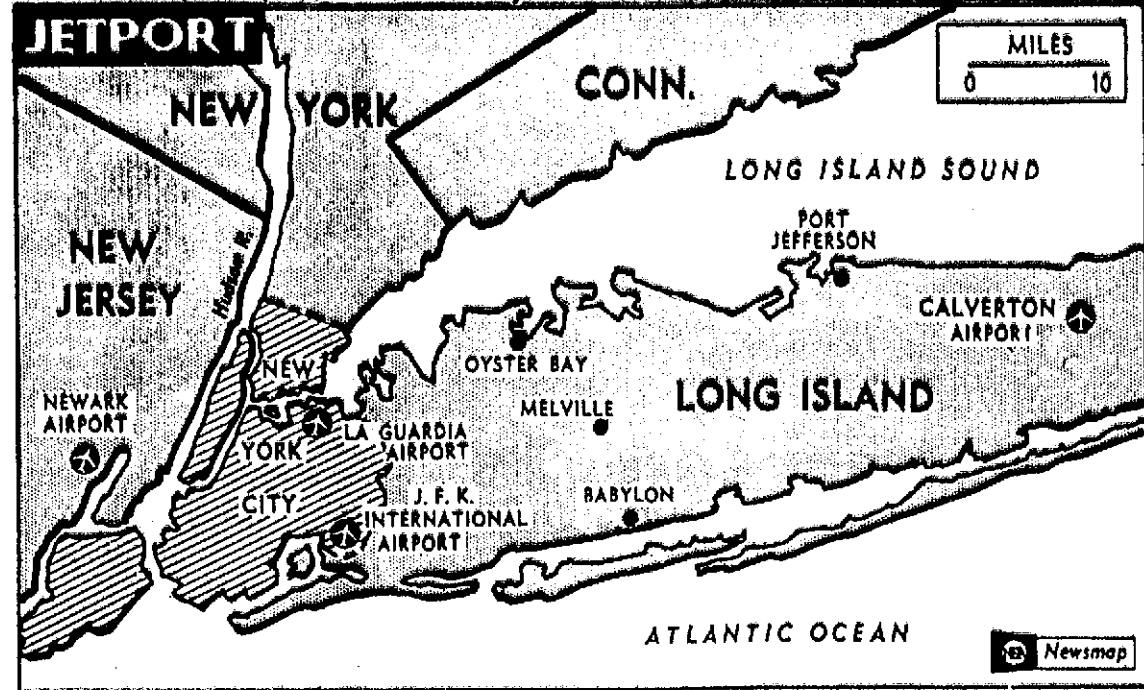

Time to go in. The chopper's altimeter needles started revolving quickly to the left.

The chopper gunners began firing. Tracers danced. "Hot LZ," came the yell; the warning that it would be a tough landing zone.

Out of the chopper they came like flushed quail, everyone firing their M16's on automatic. Lots of noise, then silence as the choppers left.

Everyone moved into the tree-line. It was not a hot LZ after all. Everyone was okay. The dust cleared and 450 men began looking over the LZ, an island in the Viet Cong sea of war zone C.

Court Asked to Uphold Press Freedom

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Associated Press has asked the Supreme Court to uphold the freedom of news media to report activities of participants in public events and overturn a $500,000 libel judgment to former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker.

The AP's account of Walker's activities during riots at the University of Mississippi at Oxford in 1962 was true, the AP said.

Walker "became the central figure to whom the rioters looked for leadership," the AP's attorney, former U.S. Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers, told the court at Thursday's hearing.

Walker's attorney, Clyde J. Watts of Oklahoma City, described as untrue AP reports that Walker had "assumed command of the crowd" on the campus and "led a charge of students against federal marshals."

Walker went to Oxford "solely to protest the use of military force," Watts said. He said Walker "tried to quiet the students down."

The "effect" of AP's argument "is that the press may tell a lie," Watts said.

The rioting the night of Sept. 30, 1962 was occasioned by admission of Negro James Meredith into the university.

Federal marshals had been sent to the campus to see that an order by the U.S. Circuit Court in New Orleans that Meredith be admitted was carried out. Military troops were at the scene.

The $500,000 judgment won by Walker against the AP in a Texas state court is one of 15 actions instituted by him against the AP and various newspapers. He is seeking damages totaling $33.25 million.

The Supreme Court also heard arguments Thursday on an appeal by the Curtis Publishing Co. from a $460,000 award to Wallace Butts, former athletic director at the University of Georgia.

This case was based on a March 23, 1963 article in The Saturday Evening Post reporting Butts had outlined Georgia plays to Alabama coach Paul (Bear) Bryant eight days before the 1962 Georgia-Alabama football game.

The two cases involve possible application of the high court's 1964 ruling in a New York Times case. The court held that a public official cannot recover damages for a libelous statement relating to his official duties unless he can prove actual malice.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Notes and comment on the Hollywood scene—

The first big boo-boo of the awards season has a curious flashback to an earlier era. One of the most embarrassing moments in recent times came at the Directors Guild dinner as the awards were being handed out. Mike Nichols was announced the winner for "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" and he made a sincere and humble speech of acceptance.

But Nichols and the audience didn't know that he was merely one of the five finalists for the best screen direction of 1966. That became apparent as the other nominees were announced, and emcee Danny Thomas was finally instructed to tell the audience that the actual winner had not yet been announced.

It turned out to be Fred Zinnemann for "A Man for All Seasons."

Nichols took the foul-up with good humor, but everyone else suffered for him. If it is any consolation, he might have achieved sympathy votes in his candidacy for the Oscar.

He might also be consoled by what happened to Frank Capra in 1932. Will Rogers was emceeding the Academy awards, which were much more informal in those years. When he came to the best-director category, Rogers looked at the results and said, "Come and get it, Frank."

Capra, who had been nominated for his first big picture, "Lady For a Day", went dashing up to the podium to collect his Oscar. But then Rogers had to tell him the winner was really Frank Lloyd for "Cavalcade."

The consolation for Capra was that the following year he swept the awards with his "It Happened One Night."

"I think I deserve a good picture," moaned Bobby Morse as he surveyed the wreckage of his first starring vehicles — "Honey-moon Hotel," "The Loved One," "Oh, Dad, Poor Dad, etc."

He finally got a good one. Naturally enough, it's "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying," with which he succeeded on Broadway. Morse delivers one of the great stylized performances and should be able to wipe out his previous flops.

Stanley Kramer flew to San Francisco this week to scout locations for "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner." He's not alarmed by Spencer Tracy's "Indisposition" last weekend, when emergency equipment was rushed to him by the Fire Department. It was a false alarm, said Tracy, who is subject to respiratory problems.

He expects to report with longtime sparring mate, Katharine Hepburn, for the start of the movie on March 20.

High Gear for Footgear

Be sure your footgear is in high gear when you're wearing a pant suit. The new boot-fats and men's old-time-looking spectator shoes with laces, buckles and patent trim give your sport suit the sturdy look it needs. To keep the look a little feminine, choose a pair with a little bit of a heel.

You've loved the pantsuit right down to your toes. Now the newest excitement is the short (above the knees, of course) pantsuit. Find one in a military or cardigan style in wonderful vivid, alive colors. If you're lucky you may even find one with two pairs of pants, (some manufacturers are making them this way) with a contrasting jacket.

PROMOTION OF WOOD products in America may be the result of this traveling exhibition of wood handicraft from Sweden, the U.S. Department of Agriculture is hoping. The department hopes it will stimulate extra interest in wood products and create extra jobs in rural America.

LETTER FROM A SOLDIER

Dear Helen: My son sent me this from Viet Nam. It's a strong answer to the Peace Marchers—(Mrs. P.)

DYING AND LIVING

Take a man, then put him alone. Put him 12,000 miles from home. Empty his heart of all but blood. Make him live in sweat and mud. This is the life I have to live, and why my soul to the Devil I give.

You "Peace-boys" rant from your easy chair — but you don't know what it's like "over there"; you have a ball without near trying, while over here your boys are dying. You burn your draft cards, march at dawn, plant your signs on the White House lawn. You all want to ban the bomb; "There's no real war in Viet Nam."

Use your drugs and have your fun, and then refuse to use a gun. I'll hate you till the day I die. You made me hear my buddies cry. I saw his arm, a bloody shred. I heard them say, "This one is dead." It's a large price he had to pay — not to live another day. He had the guts to fight and die; he paid the price. But what'd he buy? He bought your life by losing his, but who gives a damn what a soldier gives? His wife does, and maybe his sons, but they're about the only ones! — A 1C James F. Poarch, Viet Nam.

Dear Helen: I fear the problem of Mrs. T.'s daughter with her petit mal stems more from the girl's fear of how people will react than how they actually do.

Being a grand mal epileptic myself, I've found that after a seizure, a simple smile to those who've seen it, and an explanation that you're an epileptic, is the best way to handle the situation. Of course you're bound to encounter a few who shudder like they think a plague victim is loose. But most react with kindness.

If anyone who is an epileptic or related to one wishes to write me about the subject, I hope you'll forward the letters to me, Helen. Perhaps I can help. — GRAND MAL AND HAPPY

Dear Happy: Thanks for your kind offer. To epileptics wishing a personal boost: Send your letters and a stamped envelope to me and I'll forward them. — H.

Dear Helen: I suggest that the petit mal girl, if not employed, submit an application to her State Division of Vocational Rehabilitation. Every state has one, though the titles vary a little. Once the girl is working with a qualified counselor toward employment, she may be helped to resolve some of her feelings about her disability. — REHABILITATION COUNSELOR, New Jersey Rehabilitation Commission.

Dear Helen: I'm married the second time. We get along beautifully. But when we want to go out, my husband thinks my oldest boy, who is 14, is too young to stay with my five-year-old boy. We only go a few miles and keep in touch by telephone. Neighbors are close, and our son is very responsible. He's too old to have a baby-sitter. Isn't he? — WONDERING

Dear Won: A responsible 14-year-old is qualified to baby-sit under the circumstances you describe. Why not ease your husband into this gently by leaving the boys together one hour in the afternoon, then an hour at night, then two hours, etc. — until he learns that fathers must trust as well as protect? — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help YOU. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of Hope Star.

THE DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Eliminating Irritating Factors Eases Colitis

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—My husband has colitis. Our doctor is giving him Sibilin which helps him some. Is there any cure?

A—Since colitis is aggravated by nervous tension, laxatives, chilling the abdomen and eating raw vegetables and fruit, these factors should be eliminated. With proper treatment most victims can be cured in time.

Q—What could cause me to have to go to stool immediately after eating anything? This annoying symptom has plagued me for years. A stool examination showed nothing.

A—You probably have an irritable bowel, another name for mucous colitis. In most victims a careful stool examination would show poor consistency (stool not formed), evidence of fermentation and the presence of undigested starch.

Q—I have colitis. My doctor says an operation would be recommended only as a last resort. What do you think?

A—Unless you have ulcerative colitis the treatment is medical, not surgical.

Q—If a person has colitis can it turn into cancer?

A—Mucous or spastic colitis does not become cancerous but chronic ulcerative colitis may.

Q—I have diverticulitis. None of the drugs I have tried has helped me. Would a diet help? Is an operation necessary?

A—Outpouchings in the colon (diverticula) are common in persons who are over 40, and do not cause any trouble unless they become inflamed (diverticulitis). Persons with this disease should avoid enemas, laxatives and all irritating or highly spiced foods.

Chemical Edgers

You may edge your landscaping chemically with a pressure sprayer. We know of one big property in Ohio where all small trees on the grounds are "edged" chemically in a circle about a foot in radius.

This permits mower approach close enough to cut all growing grass without scraping the trunk. In the same manner, a band about an inch wide is chemically inactivated along borders of flower, shrub and vegetable gardens, driveways and walks.

The dead vegetation is not lifted or cultivated. This would bring weed seeds to the surface. Instead, it remains as a mulch. New green shoots that appear can be controlled by a later spraying.

Television and Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — CBS, announcing its fall entertainment schedule Wednesday, had one big surprise among eight new programs and a major reshuffling of some established ones. The surprise was dropping 12-year-old "Gunsmoke" at season's end in favor of a private eye series.

"Gunsmoke" had occupied the network's Saturday night tall position and although it had not caused much comment since Marshal Dillon lost his comical sidekick Chester, it seemed a sturdy anchor in the schedule.

CBS, of course, may make some further adjustments in its schedule since one of the favorite gambits in the annual network chess game is to announce a program for one spot and then, later, move it to another. But as of now, this is the schedule CBS proposes for next season: Sunday night will start with "Lassie," followed by a new half-hour show called "Gentle Ben," which will replace I Mogene Coca's "It's About Time." The program is centered about a Florida game warden, and the title role will be played by a 600-pound bear.

"Candid Camera" and "What's My Line" will give way to "Mission Impossible," moving over from Saturday night. Ed Sullivan and the Smothers Brothers new comedy hour will stay where they are.

"Doc," a situation comedy about an old physician and a young one will replace "Mr. Terrific" on Monday nights, and Carol Burnett's new variety hour will dislodge "To Tell the Truth" and "I've Got a Secret." "Gilligan's Island," Lucille Ball, Andy Griffith and "Family Affair" will remain.

"Daktari" and Red Skelton's hour will continue to lead off Tuesday nights, followed by "Good Morning World," a comedy about a radio disc jockey. "Dundee and The Culhane," an hour western about two San Francisco lawyers, replaces the CBS news hour.

"Lost in Space," "Beverly Hillsbillies" and "Green Acres" remain on Wednesday, followed by "He and She," a situation comedy in the old "Dick Van Dyke Show" mood, followed by the news hour.

"Cimarron Strip," a 90-minute western replaces "Coliseum" and "My Three Sons" on Thursday, followed by a two-hour movie period.

"The Wild, Wild West" will again start the Friday schedule, followed by "Gomer Pyle" in a new time period, and more movie reruns.

Jackie Gleason's hour remains where it is on Saturdays, followed by "My Three Sons," "Hogan's Heroes" and "Petticoat Junction," all shifted from other days. "Mannix," the new private eye series starring Mike Connors, will fill the end of the schedule.

Knotholes Nemesis No More

BURNEY, Calif. (AP) — Nuts to knotholes, says the lumber industry. Pesky flaws don't faze woodcutters any more.

These days, knotholes are cut right out and the lumber that remains is joined with an extremely strong adhesive. (Duro-Lok) Result: lower lumber costs and conservation of precious woodlands, reports National Starch and Chemical Corporation, the adhesive maker.

Take, for instance, a local company (Scott Lumber Company), which used the adhesive in a process called finger-jointing, which fits pieces together much as human fingers are interlocked. Then the company sands and prime coats the lumber and ships it all over the country.

The company reports that "torture" tests broke the wood but did not break the glued joint.

Chemical Edgers

You may edge your landscaping chemically with a pressure sprayer. We know of one big property in Ohio where all small trees on the grounds are "edged" chemically in a circle about a foot in radius.

This permits mower approach close enough to cut all growing grass without scraping the trunk. In the same manner, a band about an inch wide is chemically inactivated along borders of flower, shrub and vegetable gardens, driveways and walks.

The dead vegetation is not lifted or cultivated. This would bring weed seeds to the surface. Instead, it remains as a mulch. New green shoots that appear can be controlled by a later spraying.

Honolulu Bidding for NFL Team

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
HONOLULU (AP) - Honolulu will make a bid for a National Football League franchise in the super jet era of 1972 before the owners get down to serious business today on the controversial common draft issue.
Kenneth Brown, a prominent Hawaii businessman, will tell the owners that Honolulu will have a 46,000-seat stadium no later than 1972 when travel time and costs will be drastically reduced.
Commissioner Pete Rozelle said Wednesday night the league had no timetable for immediate expansion but first would assess the success of the addition of recent new franchises. New Orleans begins operation this year as the 15th franchise.
Rozelle still is hopeful that the NFL will agree to separate regular and redshirt drafts in common with the American Football League. A red shirt is a player who still has college eligibility although his original class has graduated.
Green Bay, with 10 picks in the first five rounds and a vast reservoir of talent on a world championship club, would prefer a single draft. This permits the Packers to take a chance on a red shirt selection for the future with their picks while others must concentrate on their present status.

It is possible that some sort of compromise will be made to continue a single draft of all collegians for one year and then go into separate selections in 1968. However, Rozelle is on record as favoring two drafts this year.

The owners voted to retain the 40-player limit for a fourth straight year and also approved changes in the waiver rules that should help the weaker clubs.

Under the new rules, the last five players cut by a team to reach the 40-man limit, will be subject to irrevocable waivers.

For example, as Green Bay cuts its last five players to reach 40, each of those men can be picked up for the $100 waiver price by another club without the Packers getting a chance to recall the waivers. Only the last three cuts were subject to this rule last year.

Rozelle said the owners tabled until the spring meetings, recommendations by joint AFL-NFL committee that would make other changes in the waiver process and restrict trading to spread the better players among the weaker clubs.

George J. Hallas, a nephew of the owner-coach of the Chicago Bears, made a presentation about wiring football fields for built-in heating that would melt snow and ice and recent freezing. It is understood that Green Bay plans to experiment with the process.

Bill MacPhail, vice-president for sports of the Columbia Broadcasting System, said his network will pay $22 million for the rights to preseason, regular season, divisional playoffs and the league title game in 1967. It also has exclusive rights to the next Super Bowl for $2.5 million.

MacPhail said CBS planned to carry nationally five preseason games, four at night and one on Sunday. He said there would be seven doubleheader programs, one less than last year, and the modified blackout lifting would continue during the regular season as in 1966.

He said the Super Bowl, wherever played, would be blacked out in the area again unless the league changes its rules.

Two regular season games will be televised nationally at night. One will be Oct. 30, probably from St. Louis and the other Thanksgiving night, probably from Dallas.

Aaron Gets Works From the Braves

BASEBALL ROUNDUP
By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Hank Aaron says he got the works from the Atlanta Braves, and Sonny Siebert thinks he's getting the works from the Cleveland Indians.
"I went for the works and got what I wanted," Aaron said Wednesday in confirming he and the Braves had reached agreement on a two-year contract calling for $100,000 a year.
The new contract gives Aaron an estimated $35,000 increase over last season when he hit .273 and led the National League with 44 home runs and 127 runs batted in, and makes him the highest-paid Brave ever.
Warren Spahn had been the highest paid, a reported $82,500.
Meanwhile, Siebert, who pitched the only no-hitter in the major leagues last season, issued a "pay me or trade me" ultimatum to General Manager Gabe Paul.
Siebert, who earlier vowed he'd sit at home in St. Louis until Paul is willing to rescind a proposal to cut his pay 25 percent from last season when he was 11-16, said:
"This thing has reached the point now where it's not just money. Now I'm resentful. Now I want to be traded. I'll accept what Gabe has offered, but not from him."
The Indians also were having trouble on the minor league level. Pitcher George Culver said he would quit baseball unless he is awarded a raise to pitch in the minors or is given some assurance of making the Indians.
The New York Yankees also came face-to-face with a

FACTS

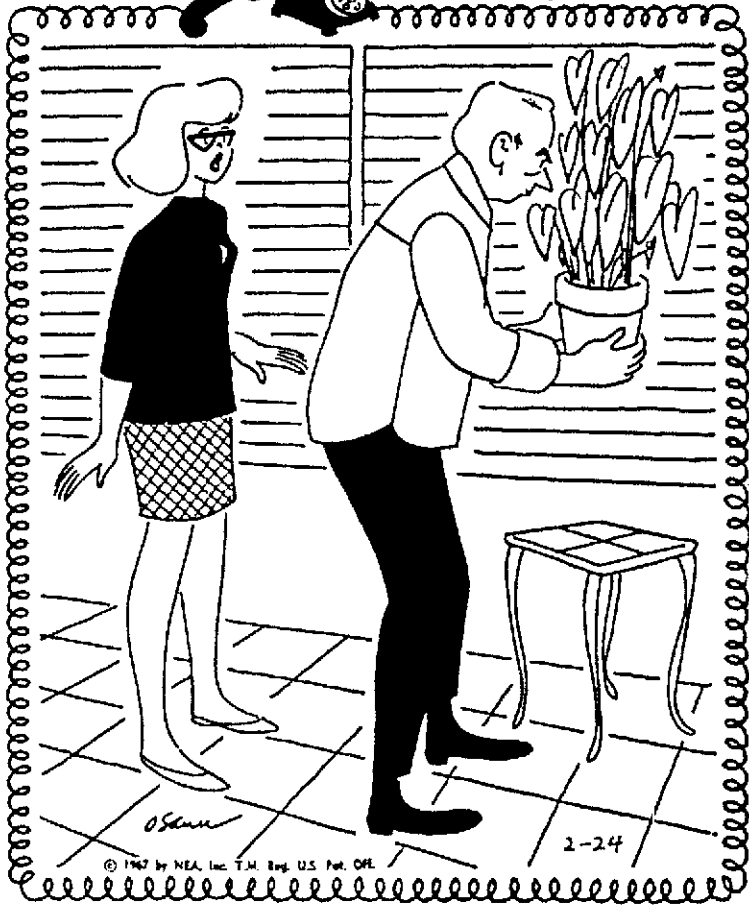

The Galapagos Islands in the Pacific Ocean are known for their peculiar flora and fauna, says The World Almanac. Possessions of Ecuador, they lie about 650 miles off its western coast and consist of 13 principal islands and 47 smaller ones. They are the home of huge tortoises, some weighing as much as 400 pounds. Large lizards and land and marine iguanas also inhabit the bleak, rocky islands. The government of Ecuador is trying to preserve the wildlife of the area.

Opening lead—♠ Q

The term "single suit play" applies when you must concentrate on one suit only. Your correct single suit play depends on the exact cards you hold and on the number of tricks in the suit you need.

South looked over dummy carefully and decided that he had very little chance to get more than four tricks out of spades, hearts and diamonds. Therefore it was up to him to try for five tricks in the club suit.

He won the first spade in his own hand and led a club toward dummy. West played the six and South played dummy's ten. When this held and both opponents followed to the ace, South had his five club tricks.

This play would not have been the best way to go after five club tricks if South had held the ten of clubs. In that case the normal play of ace-king-queen would have been correct. The reason the play was correct in this case is because South gets no value out of the ten of clubs in dummy unless he takes that first-round finesse. The play of the ace-king-queen produces five tricks only if clubs break 3-3. They break this way only 35.5 per cent of the time. The ten spot finesse produces five tricks any time West starts with Jx, Jxx or Jxxx in clubs. This happens 42 per cent of the time and a 42 per cent chance is a good deal better than a 35.5 per cent chance.

Suppose that South needs only four club tricks. How should he play? He should play exactly the same way. He can't win four tricks against five or six to the jack in the East hand. The first round finesse guards against five or six to the jack in the West hand and only costs that fourth trick against a singleton jack held by East.

Russell's Record Is Endangered

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Bill Russell's cherished scoring record in the West Coast Athletic Conference has been shattered by Keith Swagerty of the University of Pacific.

Big Bill, now the coach and star of the pro champion Boston Celtics, scored 773 points in 38 WCAC games while leading the San Francisco Dons to an all-time college basketball winning streak of 60 games a decade ago.

That record went by the boards Thursday night when Swagerty tallied 27 points against Los Angeles Loyola to up his WCAC career total to 785 points in 37 games. The UOP Tigers won the game at Stockton 89-70 for their 15th straight victory and virtually wrapped up the WCAC title and an automatic bid to the NCAA postseason tournament. The Tigers' over-all record now is 18-3.

Houston, Connecticut and Providence, among the teams picked Thursday for next month's major postseason tournaments, the NCAA and NIT won, but Rutgers, Marquette and New Mexico State were beaten.

The seventh-ranked Houston Cougars, the only team in The Associated Press Top Ten to see action, celebrated their bid to the NCAA by drubbing West Texas State 120-76 at Canyon, Tex., behind 29 points from the Big E, Elvin Hayes.

Connecticut, also in the NCAA, downed Rutgers, in the NIT, 84-77 at Storrs, Conn. Wes Bialosuknia scored 40 points for the Rams to 39 by Bob Lloyd for Rutgers.

Held to just five points in his previous start by Villanova, Walker broke loose for 46 points to lead Providence, NIT-bound, to a 99-73 victory over Rhode Island. Walker hit on 18 field goals and 10 free throws to set a scoring record for the Friars' home court.

Marquette, an NIT-invitee, lost on the road to Denver 100-87 as Harry Hollins led the Pioneers with 23 points. New Mexico State, in the NCAA, also lost on the road to Hardin-Simmons 87-77 in overtime. Clarence McHenry led H-S with 22 points.

Mike Eberle's 18 points led Wyoming over Utah 52-49 at Laramie, Wyo., and put the Wildcats in position to tie the BYU for the WAC lead by beating the Cougars Saturday.

Turner and Petty to Lead Daytona 500

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Curtis Turner and Richard Petty, assured of starting the $200,000 Daytona 500 in the front row Sunday, were set to lead a field of 70 eager stock car drivers into a pair of 100-mile races today.

The races determine the rest of the lineup for the big money stock event of all time.

The only thing at stake today for Turner and Petty was the $1,100 in purses. Turner is a 41-year-old veteran from Charlotte, N.C., who set a qualifying record of 180.831 miles per hour in a 1967 Chevelle. Petty, the 28-year-old Daytona 500 defending champion from Randleman, N.C., is driving a 1967 Plymouth.

The incentive was higher for Lee Roy Yarbrough of Columbia, S.C., Mario Andretti of Nazareth, Pa., Fred Lorenzen of Elmhurst, Ill.; A.J. Foyt of Houston; David Pearson of Spartanburg, S.C., and the many other outstanding drivers who were to battle for the 50 starting places in Sunday's chase for the $35,000 first prize.

In the opening matches March 2, Gonzales will play Pierre Barthes of France and Gimeno will meet Mike Davies of England. Friday's matches send Laver against Stolle and Ralston against Buchholz. Semifinals are scheduled Saturday and the finals Sunday.

Maple Leafs Fine, Coach Is Exhausted

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Toronto Coach Punch Imlach is suffering from exhaustion but his Maple Leafs are feeling no pain.

Imlach is recuperating in a Toronto hospital after collapsing last Saturday and his club is speeding his recovery by zooming through National Hockey League opponents.

The Leafs, under the direction of assistant coach King Clancy, extended their winning streak to five games Thursday night with a 4-2 victory over Detroit and moved into third place, one point in front of Montreal which was tied 2-2 by the last place Boston Bruins.

Terry Sawchuk, a former Red Wing, was the star for Toronto, kicking out 38 Detroit shots as the Leafs stormed from behind with three goals in two minutes, 49 seconds of the second period.

Mike Walton, a rookie, started the surge at 16:16 of the second period, tying the score at 2-2. Just 18 seconds later, Ron Ellis put Toronto in front and then Frank Mahovlich's power play goal at 19:05 wrapped up the scoring.

Johnny Bucyk led Boston, which stretched its unbeaten streak in Montreal to five games. Bucyk scored twice, tying the game each time.

Ralston Is Making Bid as Tennis Pro

NEW YORK (AP) — Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., is making a strong bid for world honors in his rookie season as a professional tennis player.

"Dennis is terrific — his play in Australia has been outstanding," Wally Dill, director of the Professional Tennis Players Association, said today in announcing the draw for the $15,000 pro tournament at the 71st Regiment Armory, starting March 2.

Ralston and the winner of the U.S. national title at Forest Hills last summer, Fred Stolle of Australia, will make their American pro debuts in the event.

Ralston has a 3-2 record against Stolle, has beaten Ken Rosewall of Australia twice and Rod Laver once in the Australian campaign.

Laver was seeded No. 1 in the tournament, with Andres Gimeno of Spain, Earl Buchholz of St. Louis and Pancho Gonzales of Los Angeles following in that order.

In the opening matches March 2, Gonzales will play Pierre Barthes of France and Gimeno will meet Mike Davies of England. Friday's matches send Laver against Stolle and Ralston against Buchholz. Semifinals are scheduled Saturday and the finals Sunday.

Pretense Is Favorite at Santa Anita

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer
ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — The strong combination of Pretense and Jockey Bill Shoemaker was installed Friday as the probable favorite in Saturday's $145,000-guaranteed Santa Anita Handicap.

Clear weather, a fast track and upwards of 50,000 fans are expected at lavish Santa Anita Park for the 30th running of America's first $100,000 horse race.

Nine horses were entered in the 1 $\frac{1}{4}$ mile feature, and several are in because a certain one is out.

That would be Ogden Phipps' champion Buckpasser, who was declared out last Monday when his trainer, Eddie Neloy, decided the 1966 Horse of the Year would not risk recurrence of a right front hock ailment.

While Pretense, a two-time stakes winner at the current meeting under the silks of Mrs. Elizabeth Tippet's Llangollen Farm, was quoted at tentative odds of 9-5 by the track's odds-maker, the Santa Anita victory, with its $100,000 guaranteed to the winner, can be a very elusive target.

Native Diver, an elderly 8-year-old gelding, owned by Mr. and Mrs. L.K. Shapiro of Los Angeles, was tabbed at 7-2. The Diver, a California-bred whose 29 stakes triumphs are more than any other homebred, carries high weight of 125 pounds.

Native Diver will be ridden for the first time by Jockey Don Pierce.

Howard B. Keck's Drin and Fleet Host, from the Westerly Stud of Fletcher Jones, round out the most feared of the top four threats.

Others entered were a pair of Argentine imports, Haras Puci Stable's Damelo II and Ewing M. Kauffman's Moontrip; the Greenlee Stable's English-bred O'Hara; Louis Rowan's California hope, Quicken Tree, and a 4-year-old filly, George F. Getty III's Kentucky-bred Natashka.

Clay Agrees to a Fight in Japan

TOKYO (AP) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay has agreed to a title fight in Tokyo May 27 against an unspecified non-Japanese opponent providing "a lot of ifs" are worked out, his manager announced here Friday. The Japan Boxing Commission promptly poured cold water on the idea.

The biggest "if" is whether the commission will relax its rule barring title bouts between two non-Japanese. The Japanese promoter indicated he was prepared to move the bout to some other Asian city, possibly Hong Kong, if the commission refuses to modify its rule.

And shortly after a joint news conference by Clay's Manager, Herbert Mahammad, and the promoter, Akira Jin, a spokesman of the boxing commission reiterated the rule. The spokesman said the organizers could apply for a permit, but he added that he anticipated "absolutely no exception."

Statistical Leaders Near Nat'l Marks

NEW YORK (AP) — As college division basketball enters its final week of the regular season, two national statistics leaders are closing in on important marks.

Earl Monroe of Winston-Salem, the scoring leader with a 43.5 average, needs just 42 points to reach 1,000 for the season. He has two more regularly scheduled games and the NCAA College Division Tournament

Jake Ford of Maryland State could set a free throw accuracy mark. He converted 12 for 12 last week and has missed only six of 97 attempts this season. Ford is averaging .938 from the foul line, compared to the record of .297 set by Jon Hagen of Mankato State in 1963.

Frank Stronczek of American International and Arkansas State's John Dickson continue to lead the rebounding and field goal percentage categories.

Stronczek is averaging almost 24 rebounds a game and Dickson has a .691 percentage from the floor.

'Local Interest'
Foe of State
Highway System

Louis Graves of the Nashville News and this editor see eye-to-eye on the question of freeing the Mississippi River bridge at Helena from tolls. Commenting on passage in the House of a bill abolishing tolls and an impending bill in the Senate to appropriate $425,000 to cover bridge bonds the next two fiscal years, Mr. Graves writes: "We are in accord with the Highway Department's protest. The bill would penalize the rest of the state in curtailing funds for road-building elsewhere, although it might relieve some worried bond buyers."

I suppose it's old-fashioned to plead the sanctity of a contract, but that's precisely The Star's position. Look at the facts:

Helena wanted a bridge across the Mississippi strictly for local trade purposes. Its section of Arkansas has no trans-state highway, being situated midway between Interstate 40 on the north and U. S. 82 on the south. Therefore Helena knew when it took the toll method of financing the bridge it had to depend on trade territory traffic rather than tourists to "pay the freight." There's no benefit to either the tourists or the rest of Arkansas in "bailing out" Helena's local bridge project.

But the legislature's proposed "bail out" would permanently damage the chances of any other community obtaining a local project by the toll revenue route. Bond buyers would take the revenue bonds eagerly enough—but the legislature would think twice before permitting the venture, knowing of the demonstrated possibility that the cost of a local project would eventually fall back upon the taxpayers of the entire state.

This newspaper believes in the progressive policy of letting communities do whatever they feel they're big enough to do. But we also believe in holding them to whatever contract they sign. In justice to all the other communities of the state you can't believe otherwise.

Otherwise you would allow Helena to block the road to progress for every other community in Arkansas.

Like the Nashville News The Star thinks if the Helena-relief bills do pass the legislature then Governor Rockefeller should promptly veto them—and we will stand on that ground when and if the time comes.

Austria Plans a 'U. N. City'

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Austria will build "a kind of U.N. city" in Vienna, a spokesman for the United Nations says.

He said Thursday the Austrian Council of Ministers had agreed Tuesday to finance construction so as to accommodate the new autonomous U.N. Industrial Development Organization which the 1966 General Assembly voted to locate in Vienna.

Other sources said the new center also would accommodate the U.N.-related International Atomic Energy Agency.

They said an international center for both agencies would be built in the Danube Park, on the north bank of the Danube River across from the center of the city.

The Nizam had been in failing health for some weeks following an attack of influenza. Police at his palace announced his death on Tuesday night but this was denied 90 minutes later.

Confirmation of his death today followed hours of unusual activity around his heavily guarded, walled palace.

House Denies Van Dalsem Lurks in Background as Ingram Attacks Administration of $600

By ROBERT L. SHAW
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Members of the Arkansas House denied themselves, their speaker and six council officers expense accounts for "public relations" activities Thursday. The House failed to pass a bill giving the constitutional officers and speaker $4,800 a year for public relations activities after rejecting an amendment that would have given each member of the legislature up to $600 a year for similar expenses.

The bill appropriating $33,600 for the constitutional officers and speaker failed on a vote of 53-18. The measure required 75 votes because it was an appropriation bill. Rep. Charles Davis of Springdale, however, gave notice of reconsideration.

Rep. Bill Wells of Hermitage sought to attach an amendment providing the legislators with up to $50 a month for public relations expenses, but it was beaten down on a vote of 19-65. The amendment would have raised the appropriation to $114,000.

The legislators agreed they needed the money, but they didn't believe the public would concur.

Minority Leader George Nowotny of Fort Smith said authorizing the expense accounts would be detrimental to future efforts to raise legislators' salaries.

The lieutenant governor, secretary of state, treasurer, auditor, land commissioner and attorney general, as well as the speaker, would have received increases of $1,800 to $4,800 for public relations expenses.

Wells said they couldn't legally draw any money for public relations expenses unless the House reconsiders and passes the bill or another one.

He was successful, however, in amending bills to reduce the recommended salaries of one of Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's appointees and another proposed appointee.

Wells amended the budget of the Livestock and Poultry Commission.

By GEORGE F. BARTSCH
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen. W. K. (Bill) Ingram of West Memphis told one reporter Wednesday evening, and for some reason, former state Rep. Paul Van Dalsem was passing the word Thursday morning: "All hell is going to break loose on the floor of the Arkansas Senate."

When Ingram began his fire-and-brimstone speech at 1 p.m., it was clear that he, at least, had spoken from personal knowledge. Rising on a point of personal privilege, the senator charged that:

— Lt. Gov. Maurice Britt, the Senate's presiding officer, made a "deal" to keep alive a bill that failed to pass the Senate Wednesday.

— State Insurance Commissioner John Norman Harkey of Batesville was a Rockefeller "hatchet man" who had been fined more than $500 for being drunk and disorderly in Hot Springs three years ago.

— Charles Bernard of Earle, treasurer of the State Republican Party and chairman of the Crittenden County GOP Committee, had destroyed some of the ballots cast in the November general election.

— "I haven't been on this floor (before) to criticize or make nasty remarks about anyone," Ingram began.

He then detailed the circumstances surrounding the failure of a bill to require the platoon fire departments in cities of 15,000 or more persons.

Ingram, who opposed the bill, said he was the only person standing when Britt announced the results of that roll call and should have been recognized for a motion to put a clincher on the vote.

Instead, he said, Britt recognized Sen. Morrell Cathright of Pine Bluff, who had said earlier that if the bill failed, he would keep it alive by moving for reconsideration.

"Now, Mr. President, will you tell the Senate what you told me yesterday?" Ingram asked.

"I told you that I was committed to recognize Sen. Cathright for the purpose of reconsideration," Britt said.

"Isn't it true that you told me you had already made a 'deal' to recognize someone who had supported the bill?"

"No, sir. I told you that I was committed to recognize Sen. Cathright for the purpose of reconsideration."

"That isn't what he told me," Ingram told the Senate. "He told me he had made a 'deal.'"

Ingram noted news reports concerning a deal he had tried to make with Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller on the governor's appointments, later rejected by the Senate, of Miss Ann Payton of West Memphis to the board of the Girls Training School at Alexander. In return for Ingram's co-operation, the governor was to make sure that Vice Foley of West Memphis kept his job as Crittenden County revenue commissioner.

Ingram said he did try to make a deal to retain Foley, who was only 13 months away from retirement, so Foley could draw his pension. He said Foley, 70, was supporting his sick wife and an invalid mother-in-law on his salary of $360 a month.

"It's all right for some people to make deals," Ingram said, looking at Britt, "but it's not all right for an old gray-haired senator to make a deal for an old man."

Britt later turned the gavel over to Sen. Q. Byrum Hurst of Hot Springs, president pro tem of the Senate, and took the floor to defend himself.

"I would like to request Sen. Ingram to come back and defend what he means by 'deal,'" Britt said.

"You said you made a deal with the other side and therefore you were obligated to recognize someone on their side—right or not right," Ingram replied.

While the Senate watched un-itchy mortician - Randy O'Steen - Jake (cockney newsboy about 16); Mary Beth Levens - Mrs. Frinck (a German matron).

China Guards Ordered to Remold

By JOHN RODERICK
TOKYO (AP) — A new shake-up in the Chinese army and orders to the Red Guards to remold themselves gave evidence today of formidable snags in Mao Tse-tung's attempt to climb back to power.

New wall posters in Peking cast doubt on the future of the estimated 20-million Red Guards and heightened mystery surrounding Mao's heir presumptive, Defense Minister Lin Biao, who has not been reported seen in public since last November.

They also reflected breakdowns in discipline in the 2.5-million-man armed force which has been Mao's chief bulwark and indicated lower ranks in the army have been using the purge against their officers.

Mao has issued a directive putting the Communist party in charge of his purge of military units stationed in the key cities of Peking, Shanghai, Tientsin and Luta (Dairen-Port Arthur). The directive, reported in Peking wall posters, warned soldiers not to try to seize power from "military leadership organs" — the officers and political commissars.

It also warned outsiders to keep their hands off the army command, a suggestion that civilian Maoists are trying to take over the military leadership.

The Liberation Army Daily stressed the need for greater discipline in the army and indirectly disclosed that Mao, and not Lin Biao, is in charge of the Chinese military.

The paper identified Mao as chairman of the party central committee's military affairs commission — the nation's highest military organization. Recent official commentaries had described Lin as "in charge of the work" of the commission, indicating that he had taken over as chairman.

Mao in the past week has publicly made clear he is dismayed at the toll his purge is taking. He has offered his foes a truce and positions of leadership if they will submit to criticism.

Hostility to the Red Guards was highlighted in an editorial in Red Flag, the theoretical party journal.

The journal called on the Red Guards to "seriously remold their world outlook."

ADDING A NEW and explosive chapter to the ride surrounding the assassination of President John F. Kennedy in Dallas, Tex., in 1963 is District Attorney Jim Garrison of New Orleans, La. Powell Is Censured But Seated

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Speaker John W. McCormack and Republican leaders have thrown their support behind a select committee's recommendation that Adam Clayton Powell be seated but censured and assessed an unprecedented $40,000 for "gross misconduct."

The nine-member committee's unanimous recommendation, which also included proposals to strip 22 years of seniority from Powell and fire his secretary and sometime traveling companion Corrine A. Huff, comes before the House for approval Wednesday.

Powell remained silent at his Bahamian fishing retreat, giving no indication when or if he would return to the Capitol.

McCormack said he supports the proposal and that "the committee has made recommendations to the House which I think the House will accept." House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford said he also favors the report and will work for its approval.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the select committee, predicted the panel's unanimity would help win support in the House. He predicted "no concerted effort by any group in the House to oppose" the recommendations.

Some Negro civil rights leaders responded to the recommendations with charges of racial discrimination, although others indicated that Powell's actions had left him vulnerable to censure.

Although all member of the committee signed the report, Rep. Claude D. Pepper, D-Fla., reiterated his belief Powell should be expelled from the House, while Rep. John Conyers Jr., D-Mich., like Powell a Negro, said he thought the monetary penalty and the loss of seniority were too severe.

The strong leadership support from both parties appeared likely to give a solid impetus to support of the recommendations in the House.

Says Hanoi Knows How to End Bombings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Henry M. Jackson said today that if Hanoi wishes to halt U.S. bombing of North Vietnam, "it can do so at any moment."

President Ho Chi Minh and other North Vietnamese leaders know that U.S. "bombing will halt the moment it (North Vietnam) halts the movement of men and supplies into the South," Jackson, a Washington Democrat, said in a prepared Senate speech.

With the annual clash between Senate doves and hawks underway, Jackson urged early Senate passage of a $4.5-billion military authorization, part of the $12.2 billion President Johnson asked to carry on the Southeast Asian war this fiscal year.

Jackson cautioned against too much focus on the bombing issue in the debate expected to continue into next week.

"The bombing is only a part, and not the major part of our military operations," he said. "To talk about it as though it could be treated in isolation from the conduct of the war as a whole makes no sense whatever."

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., who with Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., is using the Vietnam authorization for an airing of criticism of U.S. policies and tactics in Southeast Asia, said he would risk another halt in bombing of North Vietnam in an effort to reach a settlement.

But Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., floor manager of the authorization, branded the frequent peace rumors and feelers as sheer Communist propaganda with the nation and Johnson being victimized.

Russell said the chief executive "has been consumed with a desire of bringing about the cessation of hostilities since the first day he took over the office."
